The Workmen's Compensation Board

February 12th, 1981.

Mr. David E. Oakes,
1534 Nairn Avenue,
LONDON, Ontario.

Claim: LD-C13152209

Dear Sir:

As a result of your accident on October 27th, 1980 for which you have elected compensation, please be advised that an action may be commenced by The Board to recover damages from the third party who caused the accident.

The Board will institute this action in your name pursuant to the subrogation provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act. Your continued co-operation is an essential element in the case, and because all monies received as a result of this action will be applied to your benefit, your interests in the case are the same as ours.

Do not discuss the case with adjusters representing the third party of his insurance company, or with strangers generally. Members of The Workmen's Compensation Board will properly identify themselves to you if they need to interview you for further assistance or information. You should report all other attempts to discuss the case with you, and generally keep us advised of your progress and whereabouts.

Thank you for your co-operation.

Yours very truly,

W R Riddell

W. R. Riddell,

Solicitor and General Counsel.
